Fight May Result In Test Case Of Constable Powers

A test case to determine how far a constable can go in collecting unpaid bills may result from the fracas last week involving a Bristol Borough constable and a Levittown insurance salesman.

Good Evening!

The cold hanging on.

Weatherman still working for the first measurable snow. We'll get it.

And the colds are hanging on.

More sniffing, sneezing and coughing now than in many months. Well, heavens sakes, take care of yourself. The sickness comes AFTER the holidays and AFTER you glimpse January's bills.

Moon rocket burns out over Africa.

Maybe not a success, this latest bang at the silver ring, but still almost inconceivable that we can send a rocket 66,000 miles up. Astride that little engine and looking down, you could get mighty dizzy.

Eagles play themselves quite a football game yesterday even in losing to the powerful Browns.

Maybe next year football, basketball and baseball fortunes of the big town will make us all love each other more brotherly.

West Berlin voters solidly reject Soviet bid to make Berlin a neutral city by completely swamping the Communies in a general election.

That should tell the Kremlin something, Chancellor Adenauer has things well under control and the West Germans simply don't scare easily.

You still holding out? Not a chance in the world you'll win, so you might as well join the wife and youngsters and get that Christmas shopping done right now.

Only 14 more days for it.

A small town is a place where you can talk on the phone for an hour after you've got the wrong number.

Most days would be better if they didn't start so early in the morning.

If you're driving, be careful.

Stroke Causes Death

A Bucks County power lineman was found dead yesterday afternoon hanging by his safety belt on top of a utility pole in Pipersville, Upper Bucks County.

The victim was Edward N. Seely, 30, of Solebury, formerly of Hulmeville.

Off-Duty Job

Bucks County Coroner Thomas C. Lamb said the lineman, who was working on an off-duty job, died of a cerebral hemorrhage. The autopsy was performed by Dr. David Shoemaker, Quakertown.

Firemen of the Dublin Fire Co. used their aerial ladder truck to release the body of the victim from the top of the pole.

Seely was a power lineman from the Philadelphia Electric Co. He was doing a private wiring job for J. Walter Liveszey and Sons, Carversville, at the time of his death.

The Solebury man died on a pole near the home of John Silver, Pipersville. Silver noticed Seely's body hanging by his safety belt at about 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

Rushed To Hospital

After the fire company brought the body to the ground, State Police of the Doylestown Barracks, rushed the victim to the Doylestown Hospital. Seely was pronounced dead on arrival.

Seely had spent most of last week hunting in the Pocono Mountains.

Survivors include: his widow, Ellen Dillonne Seely; two children, Larry, five, and Janice, two; two sisters, Mrs. Edith Baldwin, Levittown, and Mrs. Joan Kunns, New Hope; a brother, Edgar Jr., Levittown, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Seely Sr., New Hope.

Murder Witness Released On Bail

Charles Kyvelos, 24-year-old material witness in the shooting of Max Weiss, Bristol landlord, was released from Bucks County Prison Friday under $1,000 bail after spending 10 weeks in jail.

Kyvelos, who was not accused of any crime was kept in prison as a material witness because he could not raise the bail money. Bail was originally set at $5,000 then reduced to $2,500. Kyvelos was unable to raise this amount and so was kept in the county prison. However, on Friday District Attorney Paul R. Beckert requested that the bail be reduced again to $1,000 in an effort to have Kyvelos released. Bail was posted and Kyvelos was released.

Kyvelos was a roomer in the house operated by Weiss on Jefferson Ave., Bristol. Another roomer, John Kozar, is accused of shooting Weiss. Kozar, on Friday, was committed to Norristown State Hospital for psychiatric examination after he slashed his wrists while in prison.

When released Friday Kyvelos gave his address as 3105 Newport Road, West Bristol.

DOLLY V. ZIRK

Baby Sitter Kidnaps Child

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A teenage babysitter with a history of mental hospitalization was arraigned today on federal kidnapping charges and bound over for grand jury action under $10,000 bond.

Mrs. Dolly V. Zirk, 19, is accused of abducting a 10-month-old child, taking the infant from its home here into nearby Maryland. Mrs. Zirk, a former mental patient, is separated from her own 10-month-old daughter.

The FBI said she was taken into custody Sunday night along with the missing baby, Victoria Anne DeLosh. They were found at a home in suburban Mt. Rainier, Md., where Mrs. Zirk had taken another babysitting job.

Upon her arraignment, U.S. Commissioner James F. Splain set bond at $10,000 and ordered her held for the grand jury.

Under the federal kidnapping statute, the death penalty can be imposed but only if the victim is harmed and a jury recommends death. Otherwise, the sentence can be imprisonment up to life.

Mrs. Zirk was recently discharged from St. Elizabeths Hospital here. Her own daughter is in the custody of her husband. Mrs. Cyril DeLosh, Victoria's mother, said Mrs. Zirk took a suitcase with all of the baby's clothes when she left the DeLosh home Saturday morning.

Communism Rejected By Record Vote

BERLIN (UPI) — A massive vote against Communism by the people of West Berlin touched off new Communist threats today and a veiled warning by East German Premier Otto Grotewohl that Western troops face a land and air blockade if they try to remain in the city.

Barely 12 hours after the Communists' smashing defeat in the West Berlin city elections Grotewohl went before the Communist zone parliament to claim West Berlin as part of East Germany. He said that Allied troops are "unjustly and illegally" stationed "on the territory of the German Democratic Republic."

"The Communist east zone government will be in a position to exercise sovereignty on the land, on the water and in the air," Grotewohl said.

Ignores Municipal Balloting

He ignored the West Berlin municipal balloting which gave a rousing and emphatic "no" to a Soviet proposal that Western Allied troops leave Berlin and West Berlin be turned into a demilitarized, "free city" surrounded by Communist bayonets.

The Russian demands were the main issue in yesterday's record voting, and the emphatic rejection gave the Western Allies a clear mandate from the people of West Berlin to reject the Red demands.

Grotewohl said the West Berlin City Council elections were not a plebiscite on Soviet demands that the Western Allies quit the city—the view also taken by the Communist press. Until recently, when he expected the Communists to gain, he had said just the opposite.

Grotewohl was making a speech presenting his government to the (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Cold Winds, Snow To Hit Lower Bucks

Winter will unleash all its ferociousness tonight in Lower Bucks with cold winds, snow and declining temperatures.

The Weather Bureau said the outlook is for hazardous driving conditions beginning late tonight and lasting until tomorrow. The snow, beginning late tonight, is expected to change to rain during the early morning hours.

Traces of snow fell Saturday with yesterday's low reading a wintry 18 degrees. This morning's low was 22.

Snow squalls swept across the northwest corner of Pennsylvania today, adding up to four inches of new snow to the cover left by a week end of wintry weather.

State police reported the total accumulation of snow in the Erie area ranged as deep as 16 inches. Bradford had 14 inches.

In Erie County, 60 per cent of the secondary and rural roads were reported closed.

The frigid air moving in from the west dropped temperatures as low as eight degrees at Bradford and Phillipsburg. Kane reported 9, Brookville 10, Pittsburgh 13 and Altoona 14.

Snows throughout the snow-swept areas in the western part of the state were ploughed, cindered and salted, but state police

Delaware Valley Concert 'Excellent'

800 Applaud Philharmonic's 'Messiah'

By JIM GOODMAN

Courier-Times Staff Writer Handel's "Messiah" received a reverent and eloquent performance by the Delaware Valley Philharmonic Orchestra and Chorus yesterday afternoon at the Neshaminy High School auditorium.

Nearly 800 persons applauded the concert, a benefit performance for the Women's Auxiliary of the Lower Bucks County Hospital. Proceeds are earmarked for the hospital's building fund.

It was the fourth annual performance of "The Messiah" by the Delaware Valley forces and one of the best to date.

Williams Directs

Conductor Henry Kerr Williams was in firm control of the proceedings. He had a group of young and talented soloists to work with, a well-trained chorus and an orchestra that was at the top of its form.

Two of the soloists, Anne Stackhouse, contralto, and Carol Courtman, soprano, were truly outstanding. Miss Stackhouse is no stranger to local concert goers and a good performance by her is the expected thing.

Still, Miss Stackhouse did not leave it go at that. She improved greatly on her excellent

Twp. Demo Factions Wage Member Fight

By GORDON PARKER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Two factions of the Bristol Township Democratic Organization are waging a membership war in an attempt to win control of the organization.

The war will reach a climax at tomorrow night's meeting, which is the deadline for the admission of new members who would be eligible to vote in the February reorganization.

The drive for new members finds one group headed by JP Earl B. Dougherty squared off against the county regulars.

125 Admitted

James T. Brennan, organization chairman and standard bearer for the county group, said last month 125 new members were admitted. This brought the membership to 334, he said.

But, he added, he expects 200 more new members to be signed up at tomorrow's meeting to be held in Delhaas High School starting at 9 p.m.

Brennan said both sides came out "pretty even" on the number of members admitted last month. Then he added, "We will hold our own tomorrow."

To Name Officers

The organization will elect a president, vice presidents, secretaries, treasurer and other officers at the February meeting. Nominations for these offices will be made at the January meeting. Brennan said he "probably" will run for reelection. He said Dougherty will probably run against him in February. Dougherty would not say whether he would support anyone else. "No comment" the justice of the peace said.

But Dougherty did say he had heard the county group was running a membership drive. He said this was natural for this time of the year. "It is necessary to get new blood into any organization," he said.

60-Day Wait

Brennan explained that new members have to wait 60 days before they are eligible to vote on questions. "This gives them a chance to get their feet wet and find out what is going on," he said.

New members must be sponsored by a committeeman or woman from their own voting district and another from outside their district.

Brennan said the admission of new members probably would be the main order of business at tomorrow's meeting. He said if everyone that was expected showed up there would not be much time for anything else.

The organization will benefit in at least one aspect from the sudden increase in new members. The treasury will be sweetened by $3 for each person admitted.

Bids On Water Supply Survey To Be Taken

The Bucks County Planning Commission is ready to take bids for an engineering survey of water supply and waste disposal, it was announced at this week's meeting of the Commission in Doylestown.

The Commission members reviewed proposals from 12 engineering firms and selected, on the basis of engineering qualifications and familiarity with the county, firms that will be asked to bid. The planners hope to have a firm selected for the study in January.

The Planning Commission staff has started to collect data on water supply and sewage disposal facilities presently operating in the county. Questionnaires have been prepared and are being mailed to all water supply and sewage collection and treatment agencies soliciting their cooperation in the compilation of data on existing facilities.

In other action, the County Planning Commission adopted its program and budget for 1959 and will forward it to the County Commissioners for their consideration.

11-Year-Old Charged With Shoplifting

An 11-year-old Levittown boy was charged with shoplifting after he was arrested Saturday afternoon in Grant's Department Store at the Country Club Shopping Center, Middletown Township.

Leonard Dague, manager at Grant's store, apprehended the youth after the boy was seen putting a wallet and a package of paperclips inside his jacket.

Sgt. George Praul, Middletown Township Police, investigated and the boy was released in custody of his parents.

Fire Damages Auto In Shopping Center

A 1957 sedan was damaged by fire shortly before 11 a.m. this morning while parked in the Levittown Shopping Center.

The owner of the car, William Samorovitz, of Philadelphia, was shopping at the time of the blaze. Patrolman Pat Coia, Tullytown Police, said the fire was caused by a short in the wires. He estimated damage at $300.

The Tullytown Fire Company was called to put out the blaze.

Cold Winds

warned the highways were patched with slippery spots. Intermittent snows were forecast for today over the western and central portions of the state and continued cold weather.

A death-dealing onslaught of wintry weather rolled out of the Rockies and into the Ohio River Valley today, bringing sub-zero temperatures to the northern plains and heavy snows to sections of the Great Lakes.

Weathermen issued heavy snow warnings for today, with accumulations of from 4 to 7 inches, for eastern Nebraska, Iowa, southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

In the Far West, a dense fog Sunday contributed to a ship collision in San Francisco Bay and caused a score of traffic accidents. The worst snow storm in 26 years tied up traffic and communications in the area of Beltingham, Wash., north of Seattle.

$1,550 Loss Caused In Two Crashes

Damage estimates totaled $1,550 after two accidents in Middletown Township, Saturday night.

Cars operated by Wesley Roberson, 57, of 25 Sterling St., Newtown, and Marie Louise Hesler, 33, of 53 Pumpkin Hill Road, Levittown, figured in the first collision, 5 p.m. at the intersection of Route 413 and Trenton Road.

Patrolman William Bainger, Middletown police, estimated damage to the Roberson car at $800 and $500 to the Hesler vehicle.

Harry Benchoff, 55, of 2941 Glen View St., Philadelphia, and Carl Muski, 38, of 115 Cobalt Ridge Drive North, Levittown, were involved in the second crash, 8:10 p.m. on Route 1, near the Paris Inn.

Patrolman James Klein said damage to Benchoff's car amounted to about $200 while Muski escaped with about $50 worth of damage.

Accident Victim Reported 'Satisfactory'

Twelve-year-old Cheryl Schaff, of 35 Rustleaf Lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown, who was badly injured when hit by a car Friday afternoon, was reported in satisfactory condition today by Lower Bucks County Hospital.

The hospital said she sustained a fracture of the right leg, a broken shoulder bone, rib fractures and concussion and possible skull fracture.

She was struck by a car driven by Miss Janice Gilardi, 214 Penn St., Bristol, on Edgely Ave., Levittown.

A Week Of Grief In Chicago

Priests Fought Vainly For Comforting Words

CHICAGO (UPI) — Priests fought vainly Sunday for words to comfort grief-stricken families of Our Lady of the Angels Roman Catholic Church, where 91 lives were lost in a parochial school fire last Monday.

"It was one of the toughest jobs of my life as a priest," said the Rev. Joseph McDonnell in referring to the sermon he delivered at one of the 11 masses said by the eight priests of the parish.

"Three or four words were all I could say," Father McDonnell said, "and now I can't even remember them."

Mrs. Joseph Cussen, pastor of the more than 5,000 family parish, said the 6 o'clock Mass but did not preach a sermon.

"Any words we say to these people will fall short of the experiences they have lived through this week," the monsignor said.

Mrs. Cussen, however, remained in front of the church throughout the morning to greet and console parishioners as they arrived for Mass.

Cause of the blaze which killed 88 children and three nuns still has not been determined.

Eighty-seven children and three nuns were buried after services Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Seventy of the children, ranging singing of last year. There are only three contralto arias in "The Messiah," but Miss Stackhouse performed them in such a way as to dominate the entire concert.

The contralto's singing of the mournful, "He Was Despised," was particularly expressive.

Miss Courtman was the surprise hit of the concert. She sang with a smooth, lyric voice, the effect of which was heightened by her excellent diction.

Triumph Established

When the young soprano delivered the exultant aria, "Rejoice Greatly," her triumph was established. When she sang, "I Know My Redeemer Liveth," she assured herself of a welcome anytime she cares to return to the Philharmonic.

The male soloists were fine, if not quite up to the standards of previous years. Tenor Rod McWherter seemed to be having some difficulty, although he did display a pleasant sounding voice. Baritone Frank Walnut's only trouble was that the arias assigned to him are more suited to a bass voice.

But the Philharmonic Orchestra has rarely sounded better. The string section, which carries most of the burden in "The Messiah," cast a melodic spell over the audience in the lovely pastoral symphony.

Missing Girl Found In N.Y.

A 13-year-old Levittown girl who has been missing from her home for more than 10 weeks has been found by New York City Police, it was reported today.

Bristol Township Police Chief John R. Stewart said he learned that New York police picked up Bonnie Jean Skur, of 17 Peony Road, Plumbridge, Levittown, on Nov. 13. Her parents were notified by police on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Skur traveled to New York on Friday but returned here without their daughter who is still being held by New York police, according to Chief Stewart.

Chief Stewart said he knew nothing of the circumstances of the case and is waiting further word from New York.

The girl had been missing since Sept. 18.

Going In Circles

By MAURY ALLEN

Our nomination for the busiest man in town tonight is Medill Bair, regional superintendent of the Pennsylvania Schools. He only has four meetings to attend tonight and three of them are at the same time. Luckily all four are held at the Charles Boehm School so if he is real fast on his feet, he just might be able to make a part of all of them. He is scheduled to attend the Falls School Authority, the Pennsylvania School Authority, the Lower Makefield and Yardley School Authority, all at 7:30 p.m. and the Pennsylvania Joint Authority at 8:30 p.m. If there is a rocket type whisk at Boehm tonight, it won't be a rocket, just Bair trying to make all sessions at once.
